

THE ADVERTISING RATE
OF
THE REPUBLICAN
ARE VERY REASONABLE AND
CIRCULATION IS VERY LARGE.
WE DO JOB WORK
OP
EVERY KIND.

THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE PARTY IN THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

VOL. VII.

HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1895.

NO. 33.

IVORY SOAP
IT FLOATS

FOURTY MILLION CAKES YEARLY.

THE PROCTER & GAMBLE CO., CINCINNATI.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

Cheapeake Ohio and Southwestern R. R.

THE BEST LINE

BETWEEN LOUISVILLE

AND MEMPHIS.

ALSO FROM AND TO CINCINNATI AND EVANSVILLE.

DO NOT PURCHASE A TICKET.

NORTH, EAST, SOUTH OR WEST

Until you have consulted an Agent of the

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

LIMITED TRAINS,

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS,

MODERN EQUIPMENT.

JOHN ECHOLS, T. B. LYNCH, GEN. MGR. GEN. PASS. AGT.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

GROVES

MAKES CHILDREN AS FAT AS PIGS

A WHISTLING SNAKE.

IT IS ONE OF THE DEADLIEST SERPENTS FOUND IN NEW GUINEA.

The discovery of the Horn expedition to the McDonnell ranges in Australia of a remarkable range in Australia's history, called a "whistling spider," was peculiarly consolatory in producing a whistling noise by the simple operation of drawing its fore leg across its jaw, seems at the moment to be outdone. Sir William McGregor, the administrator of British New Guinea, is now in the field with another extraordinarily discovery—a whistling snake. In his latest report Sir William says that a large number of deaths occurred early this year in the Rigo district of New Guinea from snake bite. The administrator points out that the island is infested by a small species of black snake, which is very fierce. The natives declare that when a man goes to sleep it comes at him, utters sounds which they describe as resembling a whistle. "Shortly before I was at the government station," writes Sir William McGregor, "one of these reptiles attacked the government agent, but was killed before it did any harm. A little while before a boy of fourteen years was in the bush near the station, when one of these snakes made a rush at him with the usual peculiar whistling sound. The boy thought the noise emanated from some cockroaches in a tree and began to look for them. He did not discover his mistake until he received a bite from the reptile, from which he died in a little while in great agony."

HISTORIC FAT WOMEN.

Celebrities Who Were More or Less Dressed to Embarrass.

From ancient, medieval and modern history the following facts about fat women are gleaned: Agrippina, Nero's mother, was fat. Cleopatra, the serpent of the Nile, as Marc Antony called her, was small and fat. Laura Petrechi's muse, was fat, fair, with blonde hair. The Marie Flaminetta whom Bocecelio loved intensely was a brunette and fat. Elizabeth, the virgin queen, was tall and fat, with the nose half of Mars. Queen Anna was fat. Queen Robert's women, except his wife, were fat. All Titian's women, except the Madonna, were fat. Catherine of Russia was tall and fat. Louisa Stronski, for whom Alexandre de Medel died, was rather stout. Josephine Beauharnais, the intolent Creole, afterward empress of the French, was fat and perfumed; Maria Roland also. The unfortunate Marie Antoinette was tall of stature, ungraceful and fat; Nine, do Strel, small, dark and fat, with a small viper's head. George Sand had a beautiful head, but was fat and small. Helene said of her: "The build of her body had the appearance of a barrel, too fat, too fat, too fat." A little too fat. The hem of a woman bears the cachet of the ideal." Queen Isabella of Spain was fat; Queen Victoria the same; Queen Margherita of Italy in certainly going on the same way, and most of the great singers have been noted for their embonpoint.

TASTLESS CHILL TONIC.

IS JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS. WARRANTED. PRICE 50cts.

Paris Medicine Co., Ltd., London, England.

Contents—We sold last year, one bottle of 1000 each, and we have sold more than 1000 since. In all our experience, no other tonic has ever been equalled. It is a safe, reliable medicine, and we guarantee it to be a valuable addition to your Toilet. Yours truly,

John Williams & Co., Co. of America.

For sale by Williams & Bell, Hartford

AMERICAN PATENTS FOREIGN

Carets and Trade Marks obtained, and all patent business conducted for MODERN TRADE. Our office is the only one in the country that has an unassisted staff, and we can assure you that our services are unsurpassed. We hold a photograph inventory with descriptive catalogues, and can furnish any information concerning Patents and how to obtain them. Also a catalogue of mechanical inventions, and a list of the latest inventions considered as strictly confidential.

FRANKLIN H. HOUGH

928 P Street, WASHINGTON, D. C.

J. L. Carson, U. S. Carson

J. L. Carson & Son, BUILDERS &

CONTRACTORS

Careful Estimates made on all Carpentry and Building. Terms reasonable. Hartford, Ky.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to Mr. J. L. Carson & Son, Builders & Contractors, in the Patent Office, and my facilities for securing patents are unsurpassed. Bond model, sketch or photograph, invention with descriptive catalogues, and a list of the latest inventions considered as strictly confidential.

Patents taken through Mr. J. L. Carson & Son, Builders & Contractors, are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. They are issued weekly, clearly illustrated, and will be sent to the inventor free. For any invention, there will be a fee of $100. Expenses, $100. Expenses sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $10 per year. Single copies, 10 cents. And photographs of new business, $10 per dozen. Send for a copy of the latest designs and secure contracts. Andrewson & CO., NEW YORK, 311 BROADWAY.

TABLER'S PILE BUCK EYE PILE OINTMENT CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.

A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE known for 15 years as the BEST REMEDY FOR PILIES.

BOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS, PHARMACIES, MEDICAL MEN, ET AL.

General and Local Agents, $75

Large and Small Bottles, $1.00 and up.

Send for a sample.

W. H. BELL & CO., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

If you suffer from Heartburn, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Dyspepsia or Constipation, call at Williams & Bell Drug Store free samples of Lemoyne's Liver-Care—it never fails to cure.

Beckless waste is the thing that shocks the heartless in the Adirondack forests. It is partly the reckless waste of men, partly that of the prodigal nature. Trees cut down are left to rot, coniferous wood neglected for years, large pines felled and burned where they lay for hunters' fires, all proclaim the wastefulness of the human denizen or visitor. Every forest, even close upon the edge of civilization, is a tangle of fallen trunks, blown or rotted down. They lie in every direction, some still intact for their whole length, others mingled with the soil, buried in leaves and vegetation.

No Law Against It.

A prisoner in India recently, on being released, revenged himself on the assistant commissioner who had sentenced him by cutting off one-half of his mustache while he was sleeping out of doors on a hot night. It was then found that there was no way of punishing him under the penal code, for, while cutting the hair of a royal haughty, it is punishable as dishonoring the person, there is no such provision for Englishmen, and the bodily harm done was too slight to be considered an offense.

THE ORPHAN.

[By JOHN HENRY THOMAS.]

(Continued from last week.)

Should the reader be interested in the part I was playing in the story it would probably be well to state that I had fawned at the feet of Ruth Holmes in the hope of developing something by which I might be able to right the wrongs of her unfortunate cousin and my hopes I believe, were about to be realized. In the interval something more than friendship had grown up between Mollie Anderson and myself.

Showing my deep sympathy for Allie, Mollie had easily encouraged my effected devotion to Ruth, which had grown up between Mollie and myself.

"By thunder!" I exclaimed, with emphasis, "she can use the telegraph," and I went on a search for him. It was noon and I found him at home. Without waiting for an invitation I dropped into a chair.

"It is not too late yet," I began, but I had not proceeded farther when he handed me a St. Louis paper and pointed to the head lines of an article which read: "A terrible disaster—The Steamer City of St. Louis goes on the rocks in Sunday night's storm and many lives are lost."

Among the missing was the name of Allie Ragon. The genuine sorrow depicted on Bernard's face was indescribable. His bold spirit which had so nobly subdued itself the previous night, was unable to resist the shock of this sadder news. I thought it charitable to leave him alone, and I sought seclusion in my office. My scrupulous efforts to secure justice for the wronged and defenseless orphan was worse than wasted. I had resorted to some means which though justified by my conscience, were condemned by the stern letter of the law, and I could hope for little leniency from the cruel, heartless matchmaker, when learned of my perfidy. While deeply absorbed in an effort to prepare for an interview with Mrs. Holmes when she should arrive, my door opened and for the first time in many months, Ralph Castello entered it.

"Have you seen the St. Louis Republican?" he asked.

"Yes, awfully, isn't it?"

"Terrible, and Allie was in sight of her destination."

"Were the bodies all recovered?"

"I was so shocked that I did not read the full details. No, a few, Allie among them, have not been recovered, and I want to send some one there to see that her body is found and brought home for burial."

"But Mrs. Holmes will see to that," I suggested.

"Mrs. Holmes will arrive here at 4 o'clock this afternoon and judging by her indifferent treatment of the girl while living, I should not expect her to be very solicitous about the recovery of her body. McLean," he continued, "lets hurry the little bitterness that has existed between us. I want you to render me a service, for which all the favors I can do you in a lifetime will leave me still your debtor. I want you to go to the scene of the disaster and spare no pains or expenses to find the body of Allie Ragon."

I did not appreciate the opportunity of going on the unpleasant errand as the hireling of the wealthy lawyer, especially since the work could be better accomplished by some of the river rats, who better understood the business and I declined to undertake it. Castello had hasty closed the door when Bernard rushed in.

"Mr. McLean," said he, "Mrs. Holmes' witness, she wrote, 'learning of Allie's intention to marry Ralph Castello, has gone with Allie and Ruth for a visit to some relations at Cairo, Ill.' She expected the girls to spend the winter there, but Allie told me last night that Ralph will follow in a few days, and they will be married there."

My anxiety increased with my reflections. I had hoped to see the noble sacrifice of Bernard Wately rewarded by the object of his devotions, but this disappointment bore a source of danger to me, for in my anxiety to place Lester Ragon's property in the hands of his rightful heir, I had used some forged certificates of authority, and Castello, who had never forgiven me for playing the sneak detective, as he termed it, might give me a serious trouble, but the unexpected thiamine would probably appeal to his conscience and I hastened home. Bernard met me at the depot and insisted on my going to spend the remaining part of the night with him. We were no sooner within his pleasant home than he began telling me of his bitter disappointment by Allie leaving the city for an extensive visit to relatives in Cairo, without a parting word even informing him of her intended trip. As much as I dreaded to stab afresh his already bleeding heart, I resolved for him to know the worst and told him that it was appointed for Castello to follow a few days later and the wedding to take place at Cairo. Bernard sat meditatively for some moments, then with a spirit of resignation, the like of which I have seldom witnessed, threw a pack of cards upon the table and invited me to a game of cinque. We played for some time and he talked as merrily as he had just returned from the mihiel in India, where he was serving as an assistant commissioner who had sentenced him by cutting off one-half of his mustache while he was sleeping out of doors on a hot night. It was then found that there was no way of punishing him under the penal code, for, while cutting the hair of a royal haughty, it is punishable as dishonoring the person, there is no such provision for Englishmen, and the bodily harm done was too slight to be considered an offense.

Everybody to know that Groves' Tastless Chill Tonic is guaranteed to cure chills and fever, Lagrippe Bad Colds &c. &c., or your money will be refunded in every instance. Sold by William & Bell, Hartford Ky.

No Law Against It.

A prisoner in India recently, on being released, revenged himself on the assistant commissioner who had sentenced him by cutting off one-half of his mustache while he was sleeping out of doors on a hot night. It was then found that there was no way of punishing him under the penal code, for, while cutting the hair of a royal haughty, it is punishable as dishonoring the person, there is no such provision for Englishmen, and the bodily harm done was too slight to be considered an offense.

Everybody to know that Groves' Tastless Chill Tonic is guaranteed to cure chills and fever, Lagrippe Bad Colds &c. &c., or your money will be refunded in every instance. Sold by William & Bell, Hartford Ky.

No Law Against It.

A prisoner in India recently, on being released, revenged himself on the assistant commissioner who had sentenced him by cutting off one-half of his mustache while he was sleeping out of doors on a hot night. It was then found that there was no way of punishing him under the penal code, for, while cutting the hair of a royal haughty, it is punishable as dishonoring the person, there is no such provision for Englishmen, and the bodily harm done was too slight to be considered an offense.

to Allie jilting Bernard for the estate lawyer, she said:

"Bernard has no one to blame but himself. Had he pressed his suit as the lawyer did, he could easily have won. Allie's lot became unbearable and she decided to accept Castello's proposal, since she had no other to accept."

"Then Bernard had never proposed to her?"

"He had not."

"Then I will look him up and he can start to Cairo at once."

"Too late now Castello left on the 3 o'clock train yesterday afternoon."

"By thunder!" I exclaimed, with emphasis, "he can use the telegraph," and I went on a search for him. It was noon and I found him at home. Without waiting for an invitation I dropped into a chair.

"It is not too late yet," I began, but I had not proceeded farther when he handed me a St. Louis paper and pointed to the head lines of an article which read: "A terrible disaster—The Steamer City of St. Louis goes on the rocks in Sunday night's storm and many lives are lost."

Among the missing was the name of Allie Ragon. The genuine sorrow depicted on Bernard's face was indescribable. His bold spirit which had so nobly subdued itself the previous night, was unable to resist the shock of this sadder news. I thought it charitable to leave him alone, and I sought seclusion in my office. My scrupulous efforts to secure justice for the wronged and defenseless orphan was worse than wasted. I had resorted to some means which though justified by my conscience, were condemned by the stern letter of the law, and I could hope for little leniency from the cruel, heartless matchmaker, when learned of my perfidy. While deeply absorbed in an effort to prepare for an interview with Mrs. Holmes when she should arrive, my door opened and for the first time in many months, Ralph Castello entered it.

"Have you seen the St. Louis Republican?" he asked.

"Yes, awfully, isn't it?"

"Terrible, and Allie was in sight of her destination."

"Were the bodies all recovered?"

"I was so shocked that I did not read the full details. No, a few, Allie among them, have not been recovered, and I want to send some one there to see that her body is found and brought home for burial."

"But Mrs. Holmes will see to that," I suggested.

"Mrs. Holmes will arrive here at 4 o'clock this afternoon and judging by her indifferent treatment of the girl while living, I should not expect her to be very solicitous about the recovery of her body. McLean," he continued, "lets hurry the little bitterness that has existed between us. I want you to render me a service, for which all the favors I can do you in a lifetime will leave me still your debtor. I want you to go to the scene of the disaster and spare no pains or expenses to find the body of Allie Ragon."

I did not appreciate the opportunity of going on the unpleasant errand as the hireling of the wealthy lawyer, especially since the work could be better accomplished by some of the river rats, who better understood the business and I declined to undertake it. Castello had hasty closed the door when Bernard rushed in.

"Mr. McLean," said he, "Mrs. Holmes' witness, she wrote, 'learning of Allie's intention to marry Ralph Castello, has gone with Allie and Ruth for a visit to some relations at Cairo, Ill.' She expected the girls to spend the winter there, but Allie told me last night that Ralph will follow in a few days, and they will be married there."

My anxiety increased with my reflections. I had hoped to see the noble sacrifice of Bernard Wately rewarded by the object of his devotions, but this disappointment bore a source of danger to me, for in my anxiety to place Lester Ragon's property in the hands of his rightful heir, I had used some forged certificates of authority, and Castello, who had never forgiven me for playing the sneak detective, as he termed it, might give me a serious trouble, but the unexpected thiamine would probably appeal to his conscience and I hastened home. Bernard met me at the depot and insisted on my going to spend the remaining part of the night with him. We were no sooner within his pleasant home than he began telling me of his bitter disappointment by Allie leaving the city for an extensive visit to relatives in Cairo, without a parting word even informing him of her intended trip. As much as I dreaded to stab afresh his already bleeding heart, I resolved for him to know the worst and told him that it was appointed for Castello to follow a few days later and the wedding to take place at Cairo. Bernard sat meditatively for some moments, then with a spirit of resignation,

LOOK!

LOOK!

THE CASH STORE

Has an immense stock of Gents Furnishing Good, Ladies Dress Goods, Spring Shoes for Ladies and Gentlemen.

LARGE STOCK OF CLOTHING

For Men, Boys and Children, also a nice line of Hats for Boys and Men, cheaper than they can be sold anywhere else in Kentucky. The ladies are requested to call and examine our line of fine carpeting. Cheaper than the cheapest. While attending Court visit the Mammoth Cash Store. Everything bought at hard-time prices.

J. B. FOSTER,

Proprietor.

NEW STOCK IN A FEW DAYS!

Hartford Republican

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING
SAM. A. ANDERSON, Proprietor.
JO. H. BOGGS, Editor.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1895.

STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce
DR. A. D. JAMES,
Of Muhlenberg county, as a candidate for State Senator in the 5th Senatorial District, subject to the action of the Republican party.

REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce

ESQ. W. I. ROWE,
Of Cincinatti, as a candidate to represent Ohio county in the Lower House of the next General Assembly, subject to the action of the Republican party.

The Gorman Tariff reduced the duty on eggs from five to three cents per dozen and during the four months beginning September 1 last we have imported nearly 260,000 dozen eggs at a loss to our farmers amounting to $29,642.

The Steamer, Loungelieu, sank in the Ohio River at Cincinnati last Saturday, and several lives were lost. The boat struck a pier of the bridge and one side was crushed in. It was heavily loaded with freight, which will be almost a total loss.

The Indiana Legislature adjourned Monday night in a row in comparison to which reports say, "panorama was a grave-yard." The Speaker of the House and President of the Senate wouldn't see, the latter and the Governor had a row and the members turned themselves into a howling mob.

The price of salt was greatly reduced under Protection but it is now on the free list. But it is true, nevertheless that our imports of salt last year exceeded 420,000,000 pounds, while in 1893 our imports of that commodity amounted to only 333,000,000. Free Trade always helps the foreigner as against the home manufacturer.

We announce in this issue Esquire W. I. Rowe, of Cincinatti, as a candidate for Representative from Ohio county. Esquire Rowe needs no words of commendation. His eminent ability and unquestioned integrity are known to all the people. He would make a model Representative, and if nominated will carry the county by a rousing majority.

In speaking of the appointment of Congressman Wilson to the Postmaster Generalship by President Cleveland the American Economist says that the appointment is "by far the wisest official action that President Cleveland has ever performed" and continues: "The tool that the President used in wrecking American industries and ruining American labor has now been laid aside upon a shelf where it will be harmless. The master mechanic in the art of destruction will never find another tool so ready, so willing or so well moulded to the shape of his hand, nor will he ever again have occasion to use one."

REV. FRED D. HALE, the Owensboro divine, is the editor of the Daviess County Baptist, in whose last issue appeared a synopsis of a sermon on Woman's Suffrage by Rev. Hale some weeks ago. Among other spicy things contained in the sketch is the following:

"Saloon keepers, bawdy houses frequenters, wicked voters and selfish, scheming politicians, are among the most bitter antagonists of woman suffrage; while on the other hand are found many of the purest, most devout, and noblest men and women of the earth. And many others, of the same class, are joining them, as fast as their eyes are opened, and the influence of their early environments is overcome. Woman's vote is all in this world that will close the saloons of this nation—the saloon, which is the greatest enemy of her home."

It is needless to say that the argument throughout is up to date on the he-woman side of the fence.

Mrs. HETTIE LAFROON, wife of Hon. Polk Lafroon, died at her home in Madisonville last Saturday, after being sick for several weeks.

The time for holding the Republcan State Convention was very unfortunately selected. Coming as it does on May 29th, it will necessarily continue over the 30th, which is Decoration Day. The Committee should have a call meeting and change the date to about May 15th. If the date should remain as it now stands, hundreds of delegates will be kept away.

THE Louisville Commercial administers the following well deserved back-handed slap to the Courier-Journal:

"The Courier-Journal is very desirous of having some of our colored fellow-citizens honored with public office, and will doubtless urge upon the next Democratic convention the selection of one as a candidate upon the next Democratic State ticket. Its new born love for the American citizens of African descent doubtless arises from the evident necessity of securing all the help possible to avert impending Democratic calamity."

KATE FIELD'S Washington in a recent issue gives the following bit of information regarding a well known quadruped:

"The captain of one of the great steamers which ply between New Orleans and the Central American ports estimates that every steamer sailing from New Orleans carries away with it from three hundred to four hundred rats which never come back.

What this means will be seen by supposing that there are twenty steamers engaged in the fruit trade, and that each makes on an average twenty trips a year; this would make four hundred steamer departures. If each steamer took away from two hundred to three hundred rats on each trip, at least one hundred thousand rats would be carried away yearly. If each of the other ships that come to New Orleans should carry away two hundred rats a trip, the total yearly excess would be three hundred thousand."

In view of which we are constrained to remark, "Rats."

THE CRIME OF 1873. Under the above caption the Louisville Post of the 11th, inst., has an able article on the Silver Question. Esquire Rowe needs no words of commendation. His eminent ability and unquestioned integrity are known to all the people. He would make a model Representative, and if nominated will carry the county by a rousing majority.

We announce in this issue Esquire

W. I. Rowe, of Cincinatti, as a candidate for Representative from Ohio county. Esquire Rowe needs no words of commendation. His eminent ability and unquestioned integrity are known to all the people. He would make a model Representative, and if nominated will carry the county by a rousing majority.

In speaking of the appointment of Congressman Wilson to the Postmaster Generalship by President Cleveland the American Economist says that the appointment is "by far the wisest official action that President Cleveland has ever performed" and continues: "The tool that the President used in wrecking American industries and ruining American labor has now been laid aside upon a shelf where it will be harmless. The master mechanic in the art of destruction will never find another tool so ready, so willing or so well moulded to the shape of his hand, nor will he ever again have occasion to use one."

REV. FRED D. HALE, the Owensboro divine, is the editor of the Daviess County Baptist, in whose last issue appeared a synopsis of a sermon on Woman's Suffrage by Rev. Hale some weeks ago. Among other spicy things contained in the sketch is the following:

"Saloon keepers, bawdy houses frequenters, wicked voters and selfish, scheming politicians, are among the most bitter antagonists of woman suffrage; while on the other hand are found many of the purest, most devout, and noblest men and women of the earth. And many others, of the same class, are joining them, as fast as their eyes are opened, and the influence of their early environments is overcome. Woman's vote is all in this world that will close the saloons of this nation—the saloon, which is the greatest enemy of her home."

It is needless to say that the argument throughout is up to date on the he-woman side of the fence.

"What the free silver men are trying now to do is to undo what was really accomplished by Beaton, Calhoun and Jackson some sixty years ago, confirmed in 1853, and made permanent in 1873."

The political complexion of the next Congress is as follows: Republicans, 242; Democrats, 104; Populists, 6, and Silverites, 1. There are three vacancies: A. J. Campbell (Rep.), New York, deceased; George A. Post (Rep.), Illinois, deceased; and J. C. Burrows, (Rep.), Michigan, resigned to take a seat in the Senate. The Republicans, therefore, elected to the next House 245 members, the Democrats 104, the Populists 6, and the Silverites 1; total, 356.

Miss Sara Collins, the Milliner for Western Kentucky, is in the East, buying Milliner goods for Carson & Co.

THE INCOME TAX. Yet another letter of instructions says the Courier-Journal relative to the perplexing income tax subject has been received by Internal Revenue Collector Johnson from the Commissioner at Washington. It reads:

"First—Money held as value of personal property is held by this office to be acquired within the meaning of that term in the income tax law at the time said money or personal property passes from the custody and control of the courts into the hands of the beneficiary, or into the hands of a trustee or other person, who holds the same for the sole use and benefit of said beneficiary."

"Second—Actual losses on sales of real estate purchased since December 31, 1892, may be deducted from income as a business loss under the specific provisions of law. Section 28 of the income tax law in stating the various sources of income liable to taxation provides that 'profits realized within the year from sales of real estate purchased within two years previous to the close of the year for which income is estimated' shall be included.

"Third—Debts contracted prior to the year 1894 and found in said year to be worthless can not be deducted from income for said year.

"The gentlemen who talk so much of the 'crime of 1873' and who demand that silver be restored to the position from which it was taken do not care to familiarize themselves with our financial history."

"In 1873, according to Laughlin's History of Bimetalism, 'we find a simple legal recognition of that which had been the immediate result of the act of 1853, and which had been admitted fact in the history of our coinage during the preceding twenty years. In 1853 it had been agreed to accept the situation by which we had come to have gold for large payments and to relegate silver to a limited service in the subsidiary coins.' The act of 1873, however, dropped the dollar piece out of the list of silver coins. In discontinuing the coinage of the silver dollar, the act of 1873 thereby simply recognized a fact which had been obvious to everybody since 1849. It did not introduce anything new, or begin a new policy. Whatever they did to avoid the demonetization of silver, as a fact, must center in the act of 1853, and which had been admitted fact in the history of our coinage during the preceding twenty years. In 1853 it had been agreed to accept the situation by which we had come to have gold for large payments and to relegate silver to a limited service in the subsidiary coins."

"Yes, but I wanted to give you a lesson on the evils of borrowing," said the lawyer. "It's a pernicious practice, because it is a habit easily acquired and leads to very bad results. The money lender usually gives the big end of the loan, unless the loan is unsecured, in which case, the interest rates out of ten, the loans is worsted. Take my advice, don't borrow at any price."

Then addressing a group of interested friends, the lawyer said: "Compound interest is a funny thing to run up against. Not long ago the Bank of England had to pay a large sum to settle a compound note for $25, which had been mislaid for many years.

The custodian of the note claimed $3,000,000, but was glad to accept a compromise for a much smaller sum. The almanac Judge Morton and the genial Dan Tracy were also there, mixing with the brethren, watching the signs of the times, even the Louisville Times. As it beholds the approaching dissolution of its lost Democracy. George Long, in all the fullness of his well deserved popularity was there. I hope Long will not have any opposition in his race for the nomination for Treasurer. No man can make a better officer and for many reasons 'too tedious to mention' I think the nomination should be accorded him. Our old friend Dr. Walton was there shaking hands with the faithful and wondering how it was, any how, that he halved from a Republican district. That old district over which John Lewis had waived a claim to the machinery which kept the silver dollar out of circulation, and, as we have seen, avowed its intention to create a single gold standard. This, then, was the act which really excluded silver dollars from our currency. A vast deal of rhetoric has been wasted on the act of 1873, but its importance is greatly overstated. A law which merely recognized existing conditions cannot be compared with the law which had for its object to establish those conditions, and this states the real force of the act of 1853 and that of 1873."

The article closes with this pertinent remark:

"What the free silver men are trying

CONVENTION.

"C. J." Attended the Committee Meeting and Felt the Pulse of Leading Republicans.

And Compliments Judge Morton, Dan F. Tracy and Others.

Bradley is his Choice for Governor and George Long for Treasurer.

A Readable Letter From a Versatile Pen.

REPUBLICANS IN THE LEAD.

LEBANON, KY., March 11, 1895. I am sorry the Republicans were, very generally, disappointed in the time fixed for holding our State Convention. It is a little singular that the committee should have differed, by a large majority, from so large a majority of the common people of the party on that question.

The Republicans, as they have here before been the minority party in Kentucky, though they should have had the closing argument in this matter of a convention, but, of course, we submit gracefully to the will of our constituted authorities for that is what they were there for."

I am glad that Republicans, are in no sense, the team of wild horses the Democrats are sometimes compared to; nor are we, in any gathering from country convention, to a National Congress, the wild indisciplined bodies they are. This arises from the fact the Republican party has well defined principles and its utterances are uniform on the great questions of the day, and the Republicans know and understand them, and they act therefore in harmony, while the Democrats professed principles only as matters of convenience and what is convenient for one, is not convenient for another, and so the fun begins when a body of those impracticalities get together.

Speaking of these impractical bodies remind us of the late Congress and that reminds me of a remark made to me on the 4th inst., by an old Virginia Democrat, for years a resident of this city, in regard to that Congress. He said it was the only body of men that had come squarely up to the Episcopal litany wherein it is said, "We have done those things we ought not to have done and left undone those things we should have done, and there is no soundness in us." I thought that a good one for an uncompromising Democrat.

The meeting of the State Central Committee at Louisville, on the 6th inst., brought together quite a representative body of Republicans from all sections of the State, other than the committee. If that meeting is an indicator the convention on May 29th will be a rout. Although we missed the accomplished editor of The REPUBLICAN there, Ohio county was represented in magnificent form. Our modest gentlemanly, though firm and positive, member of the committee, Hon. C. M. Carnett, was present as he is at all committee meetings, not by proxy but in person, and to whom we are indebted for courtesies.

The almanac Judge Morton and the genial Dan Tracy were also there, mixing with the brethren, watching the signs of the times, even the Louisville Times. As it beholds the approaching dissolution of its lost Democracy. George Long, in all the fullness of his well deserved popularity was there. I hope Long will not have any opposition in his race for the nomination for Treasurer. No man can make a better officer and for many reasons "too tedious to mention" I think the nomination should be accorded him. Our old friend Dr. Walton was there shaking hands with the faithful and wondering how it was, any how, that he halved from a Republican district. That old district over which John Lewis had waived a claim to the machinery which kept the silver dollar out of circulation, and, as we have seen, avowed its intention to create a single gold standard. This, then, was the act which really excluded silver dollars from our currency. A vast deal of rhetoric has been wasted on the act of 1873, but its importance is greatly overstated. A law which merely recognized existing conditions cannot be compared with the law which had for its object to establish those conditions, and this states the real force of the act of 1853 and that of 1873."

The article closes with this pertinent remark:

"What the free silver men are trying mysterious wander, or a mysterious something, producing changes hardly less mysterious than those wrought by the failed magicians of which we read. Judge W. S. Taylor, of Butler, is making many friends and Republicans will have to hunt a long time before they can find a stronger and better man for the Attorney General's place than the man from glorious old Butler, with her magnificent Republican majority.

A more confident set of Republicans never met together before, than were those who attended that meeting last week. It was regretted very much that Hon. John W. Lewis could not be present, because of important business in Washington Circuit Court which was then, and now, in session. I obtained a knowledge of the trend of public opinion, from representative Republicans in all sections of the State and find him the coming man, the sentiment being almost universal in his favor.

The little boom started by the Louisville Post, or more correctly the little boom the Louisville Post tried to start, for Goss Wilson, is now thought to be entirely still born, it is not believed it ever breathed after birth.

So the one who fathered it will not be even entitled to courtesy. Bradley will therefore be nominated by acclamation and the united and harmonious Republicans will sweep down upon the divided and discredited Democrats redeeming poor Kentucky from their rotten rule and placing her again in her true and proud position as one of the first States in the Union.

It is rough on the people, who had no hand in it, placing Democrats in power, but it is a lesson that experience only can teach. The people of the United States have tempted fate pretty far, in running this country over to the tender mercies of the Democratic party, and had the party been a little less destructive in its methods, the evil would have not been corrected so soon. As it is, we are saved from destruction and a lesson is taught that will serve the present generation. No further destruction can go on, but nothing good of an affirmative character can be accomplished, until Grover, the great, can be disposed of and then we will start on a new area of prosperity such as the world has seldom seen. In the mean time Kentucky, which has from its inherent strength, been able to stand so long what the Nation could scarcely stand for two years, will have taken her position among the good Republican States and on the high road to prosperity herself.

A bright future is before the State and the Nation. C. J.

FIX US IN YOUR MIND~

And when you want Furniture, come and look around and get acquainted. Our stock is full of good things, not expensive but moderate-priced, yet stylish and up-to-date.

IF YOU are a judge of Furniture, we will all the more likely make a customer of you. TRY us once anyway, if only for a 25c. kitchen chair. A little sometimes marks the beginning of an extended friendship and large sales. WE fill mail orders promptly and the same as if you were here.

Louisville Furniture House

B. S. WOLF, 112 W. Main, Owensboro.

AVOID Bulk Soda!

Bad soda spoils good flour.

bearing this trade mark.

It costs no more than inferior package soda—never spoils the flour—always keeps soft.

Beware of imitation trade marks and labels,

and insist on packages

bearing these words—

ARM AND HAMMER SODA

Made only by CHURCH & CO., New York. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Write for Arm and Hammer Book of valuable Recipes—FREE.

THE LOUISVILLE WEEKLY COMMERCIAL

Free to readers of this paper

Awarded
Highest Honors—World's Fair.
DR.
PRICE'S CREAM
BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.
A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder, Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.
40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1895.

Mr. S. O. P. Hall has been sick for several days.

Mrs. Robt. A. Crowe has a slight attack of the grip.

For Seed Oats, call on the old reliable C. R. Martin.

Mrs. John J. McHenry has a slight attack of the grip.

Subscribe for THE REPUBLICAN and keep up with the procession.

Born to the wife of Mr. J. J. Bozarth on the 11th inst. a girl.

Born to the wife of Mr. J. N. Mattingly on the 9th inst., a girl.

Mr. W. D. Luce left Monday to work on the Concord Baptist Church.

Messrs. W. D. Luce and U. S. Carson have completed a fine two-story house for Mr. J. P. Thompson.

If you want to reach the people with your advertisement, place it in THE REPUBLICAN, and everybody will see it.

Mr. Bullington will give you the best shave and will trim your hair in the latest style if you will give him a call.

Mr. Ed Bullington has bought Mr. A. C. Cain's interest in the barber shop and will continue the business at the same place.

Mr. Henry Carson has just returned from the eastern cities, where he purchased a mammoth stock of new spring goods for Carson & Co.

A Sunday School will be organized at Alexander schoolhouse on the 4th Sunday in this month. Everybody invited to be present at one o'clock p. m.

Many reader thinks of something both desperate and appropriate to do with subscribers who change offices without informing us, and yet expect their papers to reach them, we wish he would revert.

The Third Quarterly meeting of the Rosine Circuit will be held at Bethel church the 23rd and 24th of March. All of the official members are expected to attend.

S. X. HALL, P. E.
G. J. BRAN, P. C.

We call special attention to the "ad" of Mr. J. B. Foster in this issue. Mr. Foster, since he opened up here has been successful and has always given his customers the worth of their money. He is now in the Eastern cities purchasing a spring stock.

Mr. C. R. Martin, the hustling Jeweler, has moved his Jewelry stock to the f. B. Bean old stand, and besides keeping the best stock of Jewelry in the Green River country, he will handle all kinds of Need Stuffs. Mr. Martin is a first class gentleman, and if you need anything in his line would do well to call on him.

Mr. R. E. Pittle has just received a handsome Dental Chair. It is nicely upholstered, and has all the moves of the modern chairs, and is indeed a thing of beauty. Dr. Pittle has just graduated at Vanderbilt University of Nashville, and is now prepared to do all kind of Dental work. He has fitted up his office over Williams & Bell's drugstore in first-class style. The Doctor won first medal last year for best fitting, and came in second for first medal this year.

Cards of Thanks.

We wish to acknowledge the receipt of a very kind and liberal donation from quite a number of our good people of the Liberty neighborhood, which we accept with sincere gratitude, and return many thanks. May the coming season be to them, each and every one, truly abundant and prosperous.

REV. E. E. PATH AND WIFE.

Note an April Fool.

The following notice sent to County Superintendents by Superintendent Thompson will be welcome news to many teachers throughout the State:

"The State Treasurer is now assured that by the 1st of April he can honor warrants for half of the balance yet due your teachers. He can not confidently promise that the remainder can be paid before July 1."

Likens-Bowmen.

Last Tuesday morning, Mr. Dave Will Likens was married to Miss Alice Bowmen at the residence of the bride's home in Hartford, Rev. G. J. Bean performing the ceremony, in the presence of only a few friends. Both the contracting parties are popular young people. Mr. Likens is a prosperous young farmer, while his bride has been a successful teacher and is a most estimable young lady.

Are you all tired out, do you have a bad feeling or sick headache? You can be relieved of all by taking Hood's Saraparilla.

Have you attended to your duties by paying your subscription?

Mr. W. N. Martin has pneumonia. Mr. Lee B. Stevens has returned from Owensboro.

Mr. J. Daniel, Beaver Dam, was in town yesterday.

W. S. Howard, Whitesville, called to see us yesterday.

Newspapers, lace for lovely girls at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Attorney I. B. Wilson is in Evansville on legal business.

Cut down in their prime—Fair Bros. & Co's prices on dress goods.

Get's there with both feet—the man who wears Fair Bros. & Co's shoes.

Neckties to match your eyes, soft hats to match your heads at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Born to the wife of Monroe Raymer, of Beaver Dam, on Tuesday, March 12, 1895, a bouncing boy.

Mr. John Stahl, Owensboro, has been spending several days with friends and relatives here.

Ladies, call at Fair Bros. & Co's and get a pair of A. Priesseys fine shoes—guaranteed the best.

Miss Effie Kahn has accepted a position in the Mammoth Store of W. N. Martin & Son, Cromwell.

Miss Bryant, of Muhlenburg, opened a spring school at Cromwell last Monday, with about 20 pupils in attendance.

New Masonic Lodge will be organized at Cromwell next Saturday night, which will go by the name of Highview Lodge.

Mr. W. S. Howard will make the season of 1895 with his horse, "Young Jim," at his farm near Whitesville, on Deserter Creek.

Clothing continues to be worn by men. The spring suits are very noisy. An all wool suit $5 and up at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Rev. David Long died at his home near Centertown last Monday of old age, and was buried in the Carson Cemetery Tuesday at 2 o'clock p. m.

What do you think of this? Fair Bros. & Co. will give away with every new suit a good substantial watch; ask to see them, guaranteed to run and keep correct time.

Rev. G. J. Bean will in a few days begin the erection of a new building between the Commercial Hotel and the hardware shop, which, when completed, will be occupied by Mr. J. P. Sanderson as a law office.

Marriage license: T. H. Benton to Miss Idi Stroud, Joseph King to Miss Minnie Manker, F. C. Payton to Miss Ora E. Garrett, O. D. Bruner to Miss Sarah Whittier, W. S. Wilcox to Miss Kate Delker, Jake Bell to Miss Una Tichenor, D. W. Likens to Miss Alice Bowmen.

One of the brightest young men who has come to the bar here is Col. C. M. Barnett, who was granted license Wednesday to practice law. The examination was written and very rigid. Mr. Barnett attended law school at Greencastle, Ind., some years ago and has just decided to take up the practice. He will officiate with County Attorney Neal for awhile.

The candy pulling given by the students, who are boarding near the College on last Friday evening, was quite a pleasant affair. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Hoskinson and Mrs. Simmons and the many young ladies and gentlemen were sorry when the hour of parting came. Everyone left with kind remembrance and thoughtful hearts to all who had so delightfully entertained.

Mr. R. E. Lee Shumerman was examined at this term of court for license to practice law. The examination was very rigid. Mr. Shumerman passed a very creditable examination which goes to show he is well qualified for his chosen profession. He has recently settled in our town and has many friends who wish him abundant success. Mr. Shumerman is a graduate of Hartford College and won the first prize in the Oratorical Contest last June one year ago.

GERALD.

God in His Infinite Wisdom has seen fit to call from our friend Andrew J. Kimbley, one of our best and most highly respected citizens, who was born May 7, 1819, and lived to be 75 years old. He made an early profession of religion, though was a member of no church, he always respected God's word. Mr. Kimbley leaves behind a wife and many children and grandchildren besides a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Weep not, dear wife, children, grandchildren and friends for he is not dead but sleeps sweetly in the bosom of God. You cannot call him back to this world of sin and sorrow, but you can only prepare to meet him around the throne of God. May God's richest blessings rest upon its righteous ones.

Prof. Ringo has just received a splendid address Wednesday morning before the school, and the gentlemen of the juries who visited us. His dissertation was logical and practical and we hope to have him visit us again, also the honest, straightforward looking gentlemen whose duty it is to guard over the welfare of the public, and we believe it will be wisely and cautiously done.

College Notes.

Our school continues to flourish; great preparations are being made for the examinations next week.

Mr. Iglesias, McLean county, is a new student.

Miss Maggie Nall, who has been absent on account of aches, is again in school.

Prof. Ringo made a splendid address Wednesday morning before the school, and the gentlemen of the juries who visited us. His dissertation was logical and practical and we hope to have him visit us again, also the honest, straightforward looking gentlemen whose duty it is to guard over the welfare of the public, and we believe it will be wisely and cautiously done.

Are you all tired out, do you have a bad feeling or sick headache? You can be relieved of all by taking Hood's Saraparilla.

Have you attended to your duties by paying your subscription?

MORNING.

I WANT every man and woman in the United States interested in the Opium and Whisky habits to have one of my books on these subjects. Address me at Woodbury, Indiana, Box 200, and one will be sent you free.

Carson & Co's new goods are coming in.

Wait and see our new goods.

CARSON & CO.

Call at Carson & Co's and see those "superfine" collars.

Mr. N. C. Daniel, Cromwell, was in town yesterday.

Mr. K. R. Paxton, Central City, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Judge Jno. P. Morton has had a slight attack of the grip.

Miss Herta Morton has been sick for several days, but is improving.

Mrs. Q. C. Shanks is about recovered from a slight attack of the grip.

Miss Mary Shouse, of Columbus, Mo., is visiting Mrs. W. L. Spalding.

Mrs. J. S. R. Wedding, who has been very sick of grippe, is somewhat better.

Our Milliner goods will be in time for Easter. Call and see them.

CARSON & CO.

Mr. Sherman Williams, of Greenway, Ark., is visiting his mother town.

March 11.—The farmers are busy sowing oats and burning plant beds, and will soon be ready for spring work.

We learn that W. H. Barnes and wife will move to Hartford in the near future.

Miss Kate Gray, from near Beaver Dam, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Thomas, at this writing.

Misses Oma and Stella Tanners spent Saturday night with relatives near Buford.

Rev. Williams filled his regular appointment at Mt. Pleasant Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Judge McBeath, Leitchfield, spent Friday and Saturday at Mrs. S. P. Taylor's.

Little Miss Sallie Hunt has been in Rockport for the past week.

Mrs. S. P. Taylor spent Sunday in Central City, with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Paxton. Little Paxton Spinks came home with her.

Mrs. H. D. Hunt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Young, of Rockport.

Mr. P. O. Austin is erecting a confectionery by his hotel on Main St.

Miss Fannie Barnes spent Sunday at her home at Goshen.

Miss Mattie Pittle, Sulphur Springs, was in town Sunday.

SCHOOL NOTES, ETC.

Rev. I. H. Teel filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Misses Marie Austin and Hazel Westerfield spent Friday night and Saturday at Mr. J. Ham Miller's, the home of their Sunday School teacher, Miss Hattie Miller. They report a delightful visit and say: "That is the place to go if you want to have a good time."

Misses J. P. and K. J. McKenney, two Louisville drummers, spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes, returning to Louisville Monday.

Miss Estella May, Rochester, who has been visiting here for the past three weeks, went to Louisville Monday to have her eyes treated.

Master Ernest Colemen went to Rockport Friday to visit his grandparents, Rev. Casebeer and wife. He returned Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. Casebeer, who will spend a few days in town.

The Quarterly Meeting will be held at this place the 5th Sunday.

A walk is being built from town to the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Martha Ringo, Hartford, is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Eliza Gray.

Mrs. Judge McBeath, Leitchfield, spent Friday and Saturday at Mrs. S. P. Taylor's.

Little Miss Sallie Hunt has been in Rockport for the past week.

Mrs. S. P. Taylor spent Sunday in Central City, with her sister, Mrs. R. R. Paxton. Little Paxton Spinks came home with her.

Mrs. H. D. Hunt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Young, of Rockport.

Mr. P. O. Austin is erecting a confectionery by his hotel on Main St.

Miss Fannie Barnes spent Sunday at her home at Goshen.

Miss Mattie Pittle, Sulphur Springs, was in town Sunday.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Rev. I. H. Teel conducted Devotional Exercises Monday morning.

Miss N. May Friend, Organist. After which he made us quite an interesting talk.

Little Miss Vivian Heck entered School Monday.

Messrs. R. A. London, H. E. Brown spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes.

Word has reached us that Jasper Patton will move to Hartford in the near future.

If Madame Rumor's right, we will have a wedding to report ere the roses bloom again.

What has become of the Center-towm correspondent and several others whom we have not heard from a long time? Wake up, school boys and girls and let us hear from you through THE REPUBLICAN.

We have one of the best schools in the county at Alexander, conducted by C. H. Ellis.

Sunday School will be organized at Alexander Schoolhouse on the 4th Sunday in March at 1 p. m. Let everyone turn out and take part with us.

What has become of the Center-towm correspondent and several others whom we have not heard from a long time? Wake up, school boys and girls and let us hear from you through THE REPUBLICAN.

The boy who wants to be successful in business must remember that no boy can rise who slights his work, that this world owes one living unless he tries to earn it, that they should not expect pay for loafing, that they should choose a trade or business that they like best and for which they are fitted, but let that be honorable by all means. Dishonesty never brings contentment. An honest upright feeling is better than riches.—[Ex.]

The Revival Meeting

Conducted by Rev. J. B. Perryman and the writer at Shinkle Chapel has proven to be the most successful revival ever held at that place. The whole community for miles around have become wonderfully wrought up many sinners that never before seemed to be interested in their soul's eternal welfare have openly renounced sin in all its forms and been gloriously converted to God, and now bids fair to be useful to the church and to God. Many of those lukewarm christians that God has declared he would spew out of his mouth have also relaxed their hold on sin, been reclaimed. The Lord is certainly owning our work for he is crowning our labors with success wherever we go

